UNDERGROUND
FEED TO SHACK

A black cable runs along the base of a weathered wooden telephone pole. A yellow arrow points from the text 'UNDERGROUND FEED TO SHACK' to the cable. The ground is covered with dry, brown leaves and some green grass. A metal bracket is visible on the pole near the cable.

A photograph showing a utility pole with various wires and a building with a red and white exterior. The background is filled with trees with yellow autumn leaves. Two yellow arrows point from text labels to specific parts of the utility pole. One arrow points to a bundle of wires near the top of the pole, and the other points to a grey electrical box mounted on the pole. The text labels are in a bold, yellow, sans-serif font.
